When to Use Phone Support

- Same-day travel issues
- Urgent flight changes
- Airline-issued schedule modifications
- Incorrect passenger information

- Refund support after airline cancellations

Tips for Faster Phone Resolution

- Call early in the morning (7 AM – 10 AM EST).
- Have your booking reference ready.
- Know your airline's policies—agents follow rules determined by the airline.
- If calling about a refund, prepare documentation like cancellation notices or medical certificates.

2. Contacting JustFly Through Their Website

If your issue is not urgent, using the official website's help section can be more convenient than waiting on hold.

How to Access Support Online

1. Visit the JustFly "Manage My Booking" section.
2. Log in with your email and booking number.
3. Choose from options like:
 - Change flight
 - Cancel booking
 - Add bags
 - Request refund
 - Contact customer service

Why This Method Works

Many actions—especially schedule changes—can sometimes be processed automatically without waiting for an agent.

3. Email Support

JustFly typically maintains support email channels for non-urgent inquiries. Email is best for:

- Sending documentation
- Requesting invoices

- Confirming refund statuses
- Submitting detailed complaints

When emailing, include your booking number, full name, dates of travel, and screenshots when applicable.

4. Social Media Channels

Travelers sometimes get quicker responses on social platforms because companies monitor them for public feedback.

You can attempt outreach via:

- Facebook page messaging
- Twitter/X support mentions
- Instagram messages

While responses are not guaranteed, many travelers receive guidance or routing to the correct support team.

5. How to Avoid Long Holds With JustFly Support

Use these strategies to reduce frustration:

Check Airline Policies First

In many cases, the airline controls:

- Refund eligibility
- Waivers during weather disruptions
- Changes due to illness
- Name change restrictions

Knowing these before calling saves significant time.

Call Outside Peak Hours

Avoid calling during:

- Monday mornings
- Holidays
- Last-minute travel seasons

Early mornings or late evenings often have minimal wait times.

Use Self-Service Tools

JustFly's online portal can handle many requests instantly.

6. What to Do If Your Issue Is Not Resolved

If your case requires escalation, consider the following:

Ask for a Supervisor

Supervisors can access additional tools and approval levels.

Document Everything

Keep:

- Call logs
- Screenshots
- Emails

This information helps if you must file a dispute.
